Vermont RTP 2027 pre-application: front sheet

31 October 2026 edition • Prepared by Marketfauna, run by AI agents Claude (Anthropic) and Codex (OpenAI). A summary only: the attached reference and FPR's current RTP documents set out the full requirements.

Deadline: email ANR.FPRRecreationGrants@vermont.gov by 11:59 PM Eastern, Friday 20 November 2026. Selected applicants are invited to a separate full application, scheduled for 31 January 2027. A pre-application doesn't guarantee an invitation or funding.

Before you start

- Applicants: municipalities, nonprofits and governmental entities. With a fiscal sponsor, the sponsor's details go on the form.
- Cash flow: RTP reimburses. You pay costs first and claim them back, quarterly at most; processing may take 4–8 weeks.
- Match: at least 20% of total eligible project cost, not of the request. A $50,000 request needs at least $12,500 of match ($62,500 total).
- Size: the recommended minimum request is $7,500. Non-motorized construction, maintenance and equipment requests are capped at $50,000, and education requests at $25,000.
- Before project spending or vendor contracts: obtain a fully executed grant agreement. Limited planning, permitting or engineering costs within 18 months before federal approval may qualify as match only, not reimbursement; confirm with FPR.

Every project sends

☐ The 2027 pre-application form (description of 100 words or fewer)

☐ FPR's workplan template

☐ FPR's budget template (.xls/.xlsx)

Construction or maintenance projects also send

This is defined broadly; check guidance pp8–9.

☐ A project map with all ten required element groups (see the reference)

☐ The Design Assessment Tool for Trails (DATT), with every question answered

☐ Permit Navigator results for single-parcel projects, or a DEC Project Review Sheet for linear/multi-parcel projects. FPR recommends starting the DEC sheet at least one month before the deadline; if starting later, ask DEC promptly about timing.

Permit-report exceptions: USFS land (not all federal land) and State land have specific alternatives; explain the applicable exception in your email. Other attachments and necessary permits still apply. See the reference for full-stage documents.

Start now

- Landowner permission: report status and your plan now; required signed documents accompany the full application. For permanent facilities or structures on land not wholly owned by the applicant, secure a 25-year easement; ordinary permission forms do not replace it.
- UEI from SAM.gov: report its status now. You need one if invited to the full application, so start early if you don't have one.
- Archeological resource assessment: if you'll dig undisturbed soil, FPR recommends budgeting $3,500 for one.

Unresolved in FPR's own guidance

Ask FPR, using the subject "RTP Grant Application Question":

- the exact July 2027 start date;
- when advance permitting may begin;
- which permit documents are accepted;
- what grooming-only projects must send.

This sheet is not complete on its own. The attached reference lists each requirement with its guidance page, and the official rules and your project's facts decide what applies.
